1. OBJECTIVE:

This general standard establishes the policies, procedures and internal mechanisms that will allow the corporation's various subsidiaries to establish due diligence controls over their customers, suppliers and employees, seeking to prevent, through compliance with the procedures and policies described below, being involved in any corruption issue or in the commission of any related or related crime.

It is essential that all employees detect, know and investigate the background of natural or legal persons with whom the corporation seeks to interact commercially, both at the time of initiating the relationship and throughout the same, especially on possible acts of corruption in which it is or may be involved.

The compliance procedures or controls to be followed are based on three principles:

- 1. "Know your customer",
- 2. "know your partner", which demands to know our counterpart (partner or supplier).
- 3. "Know your employee"

In this sense, this standard seeks to ensure that the corporation's employees apply due diligence standards in their relations with customers and suppliers, and when hiring personnel.

2. REFERENCE OR CONCORDANCE:

- GEN-GCAC-PC-001 Corporate Code of Ethics
- GEN-GCAC-PC-002 Corporate Compliance Policy
- GEN-GCAC-NC-005 Corporate Standard on Controlling Reputational and Corruption Risks in Business with Third Parties.

3. SCOPE:

Applies to all employees in commercial areas, supply chain, areas that make direct purchases and Human Resources areas.

4. CONTENT OF THE STANDARD:

4.1. RESPONSIBILITY OF EMPLOYEES IN THE PERFORMANCE OF DUE DILIGENCE ON CUSTOMERS, SUPPLIERS AND HIRING OF PERSONNEL

Employees in charge of deciding on the hiring of customers, suppliers or personnel are responsible for evaluating at the beginning of the relationship (commercial operation, transaction, hiring of services or personnel), that they are not affected by a circumstance that prevents them from relating with the corporation, from a compliance perspective.

It is in the corporation's interest to have business relationships with third parties and hire personnel who share the same values and ethical principles, so it is the responsibility of all employees to detect and report any behavior that violates and contravenes the Corporate Compliance Policy, the Corporate Code of Ethics and other complementary rules, which result or could result in criminal acts related to corruption such as bribery, collusion, influence peddling, corruption between private parties, money laundering and financing of terrorism. It must be kept in mind that any situation that could affect customers, suppliers or employees may negatively influence the good image of the corporation, and may even make us responsible or accomplices of a criminal act under the presumption that we knew of such situation.

In this regard, complementing the provisions of GEN-GCAC-NC-005 -

Corporate Standard on the Control of Reputational and Corruption Risks in Business with Third Parties, the following mandatory due diligence controls are established, applicable to the Corporation and each subsidiary as indicated below and in the ANNEXES to this standard.
